

Trustees assail planned hiring, development

PONTON BEACH—The village's plan to buy land and hire a "clerk" was forced into the open by two trustees at a reconvened meeting Friday night.

Trustees Loren Madison and Don Rea made sure the public knew board members were considering employing a developer as "clerk of the works" for the proposed Chouteau Trace I area. At the meeting's close, Attorney Keith Jensen said the village authorized the hiring had been discussed behind closed doors Tuesday.

Madison and Rea criticized the appointment and contractual arrangement for the unnamed "clerk of the works." They also opposed the village authorizing a $3.5 million bond issue to finance the infrastructure of Chouteau

Trace I, a Tax Increment Finance District.

The fireworks started when Mayor Glen Wilson prepared to end the meeting and asked if there was other business.

"I make a motion to reject the proposal for the bond issue for Chouteau Trace I," Madison said. "Second," Rea added. "I want to reject the proposal in its entirety regardless of whether it's rewritten or not," Rea said.

Wilson cautioned the proposal had been publicly discussed. Trustee Bob Able said, "We are not going to accept it the way it was written."

"I want to know how long this thing is going to go on. There were three parcels of land discussed (Tuesday)," said Madison.

"We didn't get that far," Able replied. Rea voiced his objection to a "landowner and developer being

'Yes, we are going to vote on this in the cold light of day, not in secrecy.'

Loren Madison

appointed clerk of the works. That makes him a village official. I believe there is a conflict there."

"That was not accepted. We gave it to Keith (Jensen) to rewrite," Wilson said.

"I think this whole thing is a prescription for disaster," Madison countered.

The board rejected the clerk of the works proposal, though details of the contract were not presented.

Jensen asked the trustees to go into executive session after Madison gave some documents to the reporter. The trustee later retrieved a typewritten sheet from among the documents, saying, "He (Jensen) said I couldn't give it to you."

Rea asked if the subject in executive session would be land acquisition. No one replied. "We'll be gone no longer than 10 minutes," Rea said.

"Yes, we are going to vote on this in the cold light of day, not in secrecy," Madison said.

The recess lasted about 10 minutes and the meeting adjourned without further discussion.

"I am totally opposed to Tax Increment Financing for Pontoon Beach. I don't believe it applies," Rea said after the meeting.

"In Granite City it's different. They are using it to restore the tax base and from what I know from the way it's being managed it is very good."

"In Pontoon Beach it's agricultural land, 68 acres of agricultural land devoid of all utilities, streets and sewers. I have the figures to bring this (the cost) to the voters before the bond issue is voted."

"They want us to acquire the land to build the streets and easements for drainage, utilities and storm sewers. They want us to buy about three acres for a little over $380,000. That's over $100,000 an acre. I think it's absurd."

"Current assessed valuation of that property is about $11,000 with tax revenue of about $750," Rea said.

"My main concern is selling the bonds they want us to issue — $3.5 million. That's the total cost of the development and I've been voting against this all along," Rea said.

The development could have a $15 million assessed valuation when finished, Rea said, but the assessment could not catch up for a minimum of two years.

"Then who pays the interest in the meantime? We are supposed to buy his land so he can develop it," Rea said.

The land owner is listed in a village document as BTL Enterprises Inc. Developer Stan Lucas is president.

Friday's meeting, continued from Tuesday without public notice, was used to approve the $293,480 tax levy for fiscal 1988. The newspaper was not officially informed the meeting would be held Friday. Because the meeting was continued, the board was not obligated to inform the newspaper.

Rate opponents promise to fight

GRANITE CITY—A small, elderly woman got up from her folding chair, stood a few inches in front of an Illinois Power Co. representative, and shook her finger at the representative while denouncing IP rate increases.

The incident came at the end of a meeting on electric rates, held by area opponents of Illinois Power and of the Illinois Commerce Commission. Many at the meeting vowed to continue their fight against what they say are unfair rates. IP says the rates are lower than those charged by most utilities.

About 200 people gathered at the Granite City Township Hall on Thursday night to discuss issues surrounding recent IP rates and an offer by IP to level summer and winter rates.

It was the second such meeting this month. Larry Martin, a Granite City resident is spearheading an anti-rate increase petition drive. He announced that about 11,000 area residents had so far signed a petition calling for a rollback of an 18 percent IP rate increase this year.

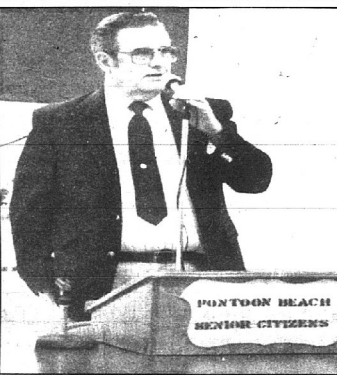

Another petition organizer, Bill Zinn, said he had collected about 8,000 local signatures on a similar petition. Zinn said he expected to collect about 135,000 signatures statewide.

The effects of the rate increase on small businesses were discussed, along with the merits of IP's call for leveling rates. The increase would sum electric bills jump at least 40 percent, it was said.

Thomas Willcutt, who owns Dupli-Print International on Madison Avenue, said the increase makes it difficult for businesses in the city to survive. He said IP does not consider small firms when the company requests large increases.

"The thing that is worrying me most... is the vacant stores. Illinois Power doesn't worry about this. Our community will be like East St. Louis in a few years," Willcutt said.

Willcutt, who has offered free use of his presses for printing anti-rate fliers and petitions, criticized IP for spending money on recent advertisements appearing in area newspapers explaining the company's position on electric rates. "They are running this thing like a political campaign. We are going to have to fight it like a political campaign," Willcutt said.

He said he could buy a new press and hire another employee with the money he pays for increased utility costs.

IP was also criticized by Martin and 1st Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish for not including businesses in their proposal before the ICC to level

100 mobile homes rejected

PONTON BEACH—Trustees on Tuesday upheld a recommendation by the Zoning Board of Appeals to deny a special use permit to locate more than 100 mobile homes on property at 860 Rodney Drive.

James C. Green sought the permit and a public hearing was held Aug. 10 at the proposed site near Grigsby Junior High

The unanimous decision against issuing a permit was reached due to the possibility of future drainage and sewer problems in the area and the number of objects, the Zoning Board said in its report to the village board Aug. 25.

Several residents from the affected area attended the zoning hearing and also the village board meeting.

At the hearing, property owners in the Rodney Drive area presented petitions opposing the issuance of a variance and saying the addition of 100 or more mobile homes would be detrimental to residents and village taxpayers.

Letters objecting to the proposal also were read at the village meeting, including one from the owners of two apartment buildings. The owners said the

Pontoon intersection made safer

By Patrick Foley
Staff writer

A drastic increase in the number of traffic accidents at Illinois 111 and State Aids 35 has resulted in the removal of two traffic control signs and a change in the traffic cycle at the intersection.

Traffic control signs reading "Left turn yield on green" were installed for both northbound and southbound left turn lanes on Illinois 111 on June 10 by the Illinois Department of Transportation, according to Charles Colman, District 8 traffic engineer.

According to Pontoon Beach Police Chief Charles Ballew, the incidence of accidents at the intersection took a marked upturn shortly after the signs were installed.

"From January of this year through March, we had five accidents there," Ballew said. "Since March, there have been 24 or 25 accidents there through yesterday (Aug. 27)."

About half of the crashes since March have involved left turns from Illinois 111, Colman said.

Colman said that when the signs were installed, amber left turn signals were removed from the light cycle. The signs and amber turn signals were removed from the intersection Thursday.

"The change (on June 10) was made to improve the efficiency of the intersection," Colman said. "We wanted to improve traffic flow."

He said IDOT is not sure what caused the increase in accidents at the intersection, but said the line of cars in the oncoming turn lane caused some blockage of view for those turning left, making it difficult to get through.

"While the signs were in place, drivers could make left turns from Illinois 111 on a green light after stopping and yielding to oncoming traffic."

"We now have a protected turning movement," Colman said. Traffic, especially traffic turning left from Illinois 111, can now get through the intersection safely, he said.

The traffic signal lights are now cycled to allow all southbound traffic through lanes and the left turn lane, to move through the intersection with all other traffic stopped. The cycle then changes to allow northbound traffic to proceed in a similar manner, with all other traffic stopped. Then, motorists on State Aids 35 are allowed to proceed as usual.

Colman said there is no speed zone on Illinois 111 as motorists approach from either direction because of the limited access to the highway in the area, adding that "speed reduction is never accomplished by such zones."

"If we put a speed zone there, people would not adhere to it," Colman said.

Westmoreland one-way opposed by residents

By Dave Gosnell

GRANITE CITY—A move to reverse a decision that made a section of Westmoreland Drive (from Keith Drive southward) one way is being spearheaded by a nearby resident.

Linda Morlan, of 3019 Mockingbird Lane, near Westmoreland, has presented a petition with 183 signatures signed mainly by residents of Westmoreland, Mockingbird and Parkway and Lockhaven drive and Steelecrest, Bluebird and Whipperwill lanes.

The petition asks the City Council to rescind the council's 13-0 Aug. 18 decision making about two blocks of Westmoreland one way. The decision was in conjunction with Keith Drive to its intersection with Parkway Drive.

Morlan also said many residents oppose another proposal to close Westmoreland Drive, from Keith Drive to Mockingbird Lane, to through traffic. Such a proposal, supported by Sixth Ward Alderwoman Judy Whitaker, was put on first reading at the Aug. 18 meeting.

Morlan said she considers both proposals an attempt to make Westmoreland a private street. She said this creates inconvenience for other drivers.

"We object to this. This is a public street and other people have a right to use it. This is not Beverly Hills. This is Granite City," Morlan told the City Council on Tuesday. "I have never seen such blatant snobbery in all my life."

Morlan said she has talked with a number of Westmoreland residents who oppose Whitaker's one-way ordinance and the no-through-traffic proposal.

Changing Westmoreland to one-way and the traffic ban proposal would intend to stop growing commuter traffic in the area and protect playing children, Whitaker said.

She said she has worked on the proposals for two years in response to complaints from residents about traffic problems on the street, which is in her ward.

Kathy Chastain An American in Paris

By Bill Bagby

MITCHELL—Kathy Chastain and her husband, Michel Debost, have been making music together for 20 years.

Chastain, a former Granite City resident, and Debost celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary this summer. They live in Paris and are professional flutists.

Sunday focus

They were in St. Louis for the 15th annual convention of the National Flute Association, held at the Adams Mark Hotel Aug. 20-23. They and their two children, Charles, 18, and Jeanne, 15, visited Chastain's sister, Gertrude Peters, in Mitchell on Wednesday.

Chastain learned to play the flute from Elsie Mayhail of Granite City. Mayhail, now retired, was band director at the former Prather Junior High School.

Mayhail said she knew Chastain had great potential as a flutist.

"Her progress was just terrific," Mayhail said. "There was no doubt in my mind that she was gifted at playing the flute."

Chastain attended Granite City High School, studying under retired band director Louis Meek.

She met Debost in 1967 at SIUE where he was her flute teacher, she said. They married and moved to France, where Debost had been born.

After moving to Paris, Chastain learned to read and write French in about four months, she said. She also has learned to enjoy French cuisine, she said.

"She likes wine better than beer now," Debost said. Chastain holds both U.S. and French passports, she said.

Chastain said she's noticed changes in Granite City since she left — especially in the commercial developments on Nameoki Road.

Debost graduated from the Paris Conservatory, is now a teacher there, and plays with the Paris orchestra. Chastain also attended the conservatory.

Debost has performed with such famous flutists as James

Adams gives report on township road projects

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP — A report on road projects accomplished by the Nameoki Township Highway Department was given at the Town Board meeting Aug. 24.

The report was prepared by Highway Commissioner Lee Adams in a letter to board members and Supervisor Harry Briggs Sr.

The following has been accomplished since May 1:

- New ditches have been cut, 500 feet of new 12-inch culverts installed, 300 tons of rocks have been put down on sides of blacktop roads, and 90 percent of the drainage problems in the Cloverleaf Addition have been alleviated.
- Nine hundred feet of 12-inch underground pipe has been laid to alleviate drainage problems on Illinois 111 and Lake Drive.
- All the streets in Cloverleaf, which includes Troy Avenue, Hillbrand Avenue, Central Street, Alton Avenue and Collinsville Street, were blacktoped. A total of 1,101 tons of blacktop was used.
- North Drive, South Drive, Arlington Drive, Georgetown Drive and Queensbury Court were also blacktoped. A total of 1,625.55 tons of blacktop was used.

"Eighteen miles of streets were oiled and chipped including Slough Road, Graveyard Road, Old Alton Road, Bend Road, Layton Road, Dorris Road, Hare Street in Eagle Park, Tarriss Street in East Madison, Bischoff Road, Burns Road, School House Road, Hanfelder Road, Lake Drive from Illinois 162 to State Aid 35, Kaseburg Lane, South Street, Nelson Drive, Nicholas Drive, Breckenridge Lane from Lakeview Street to Lake Drive, McDonald Lake Road, Engineer Road, Old Edwardsville Road and Kelly Drive. A total of 62,929 gallons of oil and 2,800 tons of chips (rocks) were used.

"Grass was cut and discarded items removed from all township alleys.

"We have accomplished a good deal of work for the betterment of the township and I would like to take this opportunity to thank the workers and a special thanks to Supervisor Briggs for his help and the Board of Trustees for their full cooperation," Adams wrote.

Veto sparks response

Gov. Jim Thompson's veto of a bill that would have banned distribution of contraceptives to high school students has drawn both praise and condemnation.

"I think the governor's decision might be a milestone. Education is the key to stopping unwanted pregnancies," said Susan Morton, director of the Hope Clinic in Granite City.

Phyllis Schaffly of Alton strongly disagrees with the veto. She said she made a mistake in vetoing the bill.

"It's pretty clear that the way to go is to teach children sexual abstinence," Schaffly said.

Morton said families should decide together about birth control, but if parents refuse children contraceptives, she said, they should be able to get them somewhere.

"By allowing their child to use contraceptives, some families get the feeling they are condoning sexual activity. When this is the case, the teen needs to have this avenue of help (contraceptives) available," Morton said.

She said one of the most convenient avenues would be through the teen's high school clinic.

Schaffly's abstinence stand is supported by anti-abortion groups and the Roman Catholic Church. Representatives of those two groups applauded the legislation when it approved the contraceptive ban during its spring session.

School officials agree education should play a major role in stopping teen pregnancies, but most stop short of handing out contraceptives in school.

MetroLink gets initial Bi-State endorsement

By Roy Welner

Prospects for rapid transit across this metropolitan area received a boost Friday as the Bi-State Development Agency approved a resolution endorsing an initial light rail line linking East St. Louis with Lambert Airport.

Further, the board's resolution said, the agency "will commit to be the operator" of the light rail system once funding sources are guaranteed.

Federal funds for the project are expected to be released soon, enabling construction on MetroLink to start by next fall, said one Bi-State spokesman.

A resolution was introduced by Illinois commissioner Kenneth L. Evers and quickly secured by commissioner Pat Watkins, who called for the agency to make a "firm commitment" in support of the proposed light rail system.

Agency board members initially voted down the motion, several saying the proposal was premature. However, on a second vote called for by Missouri commissioner Thomas Purcell, the resolution was approved overwhelmingly.

While the resolution has no binding effect on either the agency or other authorities involved with MetroLink, its passage puts Bi-State in the forefront of those committed to development of rapid transit for the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Discussion of Bi-State's involvement with MetroLink was precipitated by information introduced by Bi-State Executive Director R. Raleigh D'Adamo.

A policy board — composed of Bi-State board members, a semi-autonomous board, or a completely autonomous commission — will oversee completion of the rapid transit system, he said. "All (three governing agencies are) legally possible."

At this point Evers introduced his resolution committing Bi-State involvement to MetroLink. Any other approach could prove "cumbersome," the former Edwardsville mayor said.

The approved resolution also states "the most efficient and effective way of completion of the design and construction is for Bi-State to assume these roles."

Approved motions must receive a majority vote from both the Illinois and Missouri board members to become effective. Initially, only the Illinois state members voted their approval.

Lewis, Clark Park now part of trail

The Lewis and Clark Park near Mitchell became a part of the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail on Aug. 14.

State Sen. Sam Vadala and members of the Lewis and Clark Society of St. Louis, St. Charles and Wood River attended the ceremony on the park grounds.

Jon James of the National Park Service presented the certificate to ranger Matthew Migalla, representing the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency.

In 1978, Congress established the Lewis and Clark Trail as a national historic trail, James said.

"The National Park Service regards the Lewis and Clark expedition as one of the most significant events in United States history," he told the group.

"By their exploration of the boundaries beyond the Mississippi, Americans became aware of the scope of their new land," Vadala said.

Vadala is an active supporter of the Lewis and Clark Society. "We got the monument, we got the road eventually, we'll get Camp DuBois (a replica of the original camp buildings)," he said.

The Lewis and Clark expedition spent a winter and trained at Camp DuBois, near the confluence of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, before starting the journey to the Pacific.

A visitors' center for the park is still planned, said Vadala, who will introduce a bill to add a 38-acre tract to the park. The farm acreage adjoining the park boundary is for sale.

"I'm always amazed to hear of the troubles that the Lewis and Clark expedition had," Vadala grinned. "But you ought to see the problems in Springfield."

Winnie George, president of the St. Louis Lewis and Clark Society, said Missouri's purchase of the Katy Trail could become another link in the national trail. The planned hiking/biking trail, along a 160-mile abandoned railroad line, follows the Missouri River from east of St. Charles to Rochester, Mo.

George, a volunteer at the St. Louis Gateway Arch, said the trail also attracts many international visitors.

"Our three groups, working with chapters throughout the country, hope to see the trail established so that visitors can follow it from this site to the Pacific Ocean," she said.

Robert Colter, president of the Wood River Lewis and Clark Historical Society, has a two-fold interest in the famed explorers.

Colter is an American history buff and a descendant of John Colter, a hunter and scout who accompanied Lewis and Clark in their exploration of the West.

Born in Pennsylvania, Robert Colter joined the historical society after moving to East Alton. The construction of the Gateway Arch sparked his interest in learning more about his ancestor and the little band of pioneers who began their exploration after spending the winter in Illinois.

"John Colter didn't return with the explorers," Colter said. "He stayed on in the West, one of the first mountain men. He traveled through Yellowstone and the Tetons. Colter Bay is named after him."

Now that Lewis and Clark Park has been included in the National Historic Trail, markers will be placed by the National Park Service, Colter said.

Other sites on the trail include Fort Mandan in North Dakota, and Fort Clatsop in Oregon.

Expand reporting of child abuse, neglect

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. James R. Thompson has signed legislation expanding the number of state employees required to report suspected cases of child abuse or neglect to the Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS).

"Many state agencies, not only DCFS caseworkers, come in contact with abused children, and all have a responsibility to report instances of suspected abuse or neglect," Thompson said. "Not all children can speak for themselves, and all of us must be their protectors."

House Bill 2872 adds Department of Rehabilitation Services personnel, including hotline, domestic violence and recreational program staff, to the list of mandated reporters.

House Bill 478 requires Department of Public Aid caseworkers to check on the suitability of the home and status of the health of any children, at the home during visits. It also requires reporting any evidence of abuse or neglect.

"Many of these staff members already report suspected abuse or neglect as a course of habit, but these bills will make the requirement clear to all involved," Thompson said in a statement.

The bills were introduced during Youth Day at the Illinois State Fair. HB 478 is effective Jan. 1, 1988. HB 2872 is effective immediately.

In addition, Thompson signed other legislation:

House Bill 464 clarifies autopsy protocol for coroners and pathologists by requiring those conducting autopsies in suspected child abuse cases to report the findings to DCFS. The bill also requires that all suspected cases of sudden infant death syndrome be reported to the Statewide Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Program.

It is effective immediately.

House Bill 523 permits judges to exclude a person from the courtroom any one without a direct interest in cases where the victim is under 18 years of age. Currently, the victim must be under 13 years old for the exclusions to be permitted.

Media representatives cannot be excluded. It is effective Jan. 1, 1988.

HB 2262 creates an "emergency permit" provision for licensed child care facilities that receive children from a child care facility closed temporarily as a result of a natural disaster. The provision will allow the DCFS to license the facility even if a rare occurrence involving a natural disaster like a fire. It is effective Jan. 1, 1988.

HB 2262 amends the Drug Paraphernalia Control Act to provide that any person 18 or older who sells drug paraphernalia to a person under 18 is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor, which carries a penalty of up to one year imprisonment and a fine of $1,000. Sales to adults continue to be a business offense carrying a penalty of $1,000 for each item. It is effective immediately.

State Bill 21 creates the Child Protective Investigation and Child Certification Act of 1987 and requires more stringent training, testing and certification of DCFS child protective investigators and specialists. It is effective July 1, 1988.

Senate Bill 407 adds a section to the Child Care Act of 1969 creating a new category of day care licensure, the group day care home.

Day care homes have been limited to a maximum of eight children, and the new group day care home will allow for care of up to 12 children. The new category is an attempt to meet the need in small communities for expanded day care facilities, especially for "latchkey children" seeking day care before and after school hours.

DCFS will develop licensing standards for the new category. It is effective July 1, 1988.

Senate Bill 412 requires a child's blood type be included on birth certificates in an effort to assist law enforcement authorities in the identification of missing or abducted children.

"Because a person's blood type never changes, it is one of several factors that can be used to help identify an individual," Thompson said. "This new law will help law enforcement authorities determine the correct identification of children recovered after a lengthy period of time."

"For instance, an infant abducted and missing for two or three years, a child with many physical changes prior to recovery by police, but knowledge of the missing child's blood type can make the identification easier," he said. It will go into effect Jan. 1, 1989.

Senate Bill 933 classifies definitions in the intergovernmental Missing Child Recovery Act of 1984 and makes technical corrections. The change also makes it clear that I-SEARCH (Illinois Statewide Enforcement Agency for Recovered Children) units have the authority to investigate cases of exploited children as well as missing children. The law is effective immediately.

Senate Bill 939 requires DCFS to investigate and report on child care facility in operation without a license and empowers DCFS to request law enforcement assistance if denied access to the premises.

The bill also makes operation of a child care facility without a license a Class A misdemeanor. If operation continues without an attempt to obtain a license, the operator is guilty of a Class B misdemeanor, which carries a fine of up to $10,000 each day of the violation. It is effective immediately.

Senate Bill 1234 amends the Child Care Act of 1969 creating "conditional licensure" as a new category for child care facilities that are not in compliance with DCFS licensing standards but also are not a danger to residents and have a corrective plan to meet DCFS standards within six months.

If standards are not met, DCFS will be allowed to revoke the facility's license. The new law is effective immediately.

Change made in bus route

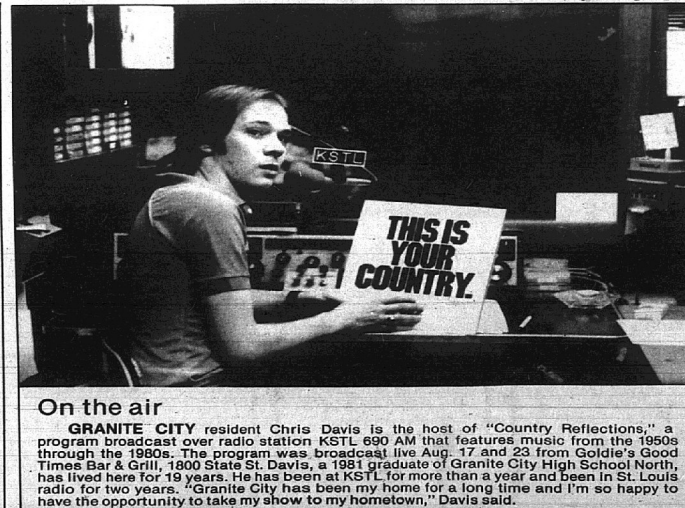

On Aug. 31, extensions will be added to some Bi-State bus routes in Illinois, and minor schedule changes will be made on other routes.

No. 508 Edwardsville-Cross County will have a slight route adjustment to shorten the route and improve running time. Service will be removed from Bohn Road between Illinois 143 and New Poag Road, but will be added to 143 between Bohn Road and H Street in Edwardsville.

The southbound route from Alton to Granite City via Edwardsville and SIUE will begin at Alton Square and then go to St. Louis via Washington.

Edwards, Main, Broadway/Edwardsville Road/143, Main, St. Louis Street, Illinois 143, University Drive, N. University Drive, H Street, New Poag Road, 111 Chain of Rocks Road, Illinois 203, Maryville, Ponton, Nameoki Road, Madison, 10th Street, Edison Avenue and then end the route at 19th Street.

Northbound from Granite City to Alton will be the reverse of the above, except in downtown Edwardsville, where the bus will operate from St. Louis Street, Second Street to H Street and then to Main, where it continues the normal route.

lems for Chastain and him, he said.

"There's no competition in our careers," he said.

Debost and Chastain perform a lot together, they said. They were featured as soloists during the convention at a concert of French music.

They will also be featured on a broadcast of "St. Louis Sky- line" to be aired at 10:30 p.m. Sept. 7 on Channel 9.

"We're quite good together because we know each other quite well," Chastain said.

Debost said: "It brought us together and it keeps us together."

Rate

Rate opponents promise to fight the rates. Under IP's proposal, residential consumers would get a rebate on some of the higher summer charges, and would see an increase in lower winter charges.

An IP representative, residential marketing advisor Edlin Null, told the crowd that the company did not include businesses because IP was reacting to residential complaints.

"I'm sorry that businesses were not included. But it is the residential consumers who complained," Null said.

Martin disagreed.

"I got businessmen to sign this (petition) too," Martin said. He also said consumers did not ask that rates be leveled. He said they asked that rates be lowered.

"It (the petition) says to lower the increases. It doesn't say level anything," Martin said.

Null and another IP employee, Mike Schultz, attended the meeting but Schultz said they were not prepared to answer questions. He said they came to see the company's use of ads.

"The advertisements are working because you're seeing the ads. We are getting our message across," Schultz said. He said he thought could be referred back to the Zoning Board when revised.

Rea objected to deferring action on the recommendation, saying a public hearing had been held and a decision made by the Zoning Board based on that hearing.

Rather than a revision, another application should be submitted and another hearing held, he maintained. A certified engineering plat with drainage specifics for the proposed area should have been included, Rea said.

The area currently is zoned MR-2 for multi-family dwellings, Village President Glen Wilson said.

"We need a whole new hearing and ask Mr. Green to submit a whole new plan," said Trustee Carl Hackney, former village economic development director.

Trustee Louis Whitsell said some older maps in his possession show that Bishop Slough, located in the Rodney Drive area, was connected all the way to Long Lake.

He reminded board members of problems experienced for the past 20 years with Dobrey Slough and the possibility that similar problems could develop in the proposed area.

Whitsell didn't appear convinced when assured by Hackney "the 300-foot area on Rodney is solid."

"Trailers are mobile and if they start sinking into the ground I suppose they can always move them out," Whitsell said.

area already is highly populated and a mobile home park could cause further back-up of sanitary sewers and clogged sewer mains.

Reduced community services and added crime also could result, they said.

Others cited surface water drainage problems, a heavier burden on community services and taxpayers, and possible lower property values.

When the Zoning Board's recommendation was read, Trustee Don Rea immediately offered a motion to approve denial of a permit. The measure failed when no one seconded the motion.

It was suggested that some of the problems could be worked out with Green and that the plan could be referred back to the Zoning Board when revised.

Rea objected to deferring action on the recommendation, saying a public hearing had been held and a decision made by the Zoning Board based on that hearing.

'The Bedroom Window' offers scintillating view

By Nick and Eileen Pacino
Staff writer

Another Alfred Hitchcock-inspired romantic thriller, "The Bedroom Window" flickered onto theater screens in early 1987 and marked a departure for Steve Guttenberg from previous comic roles like that in "Police Academy" (1984).

In "The Bedroom Window," Guttenberg plays self-centered, ambitious Terry Lambert, an architect having an affair with Sylvia Wentworth (Isabelle Huppert), the boss's wife. During a tryst in Lambert's loft, Wentworth witnesses the attempted assault of a young woman by a man (Brad Greenquist) who later rapes and murders two other women. Afraid to testify for fear of exposing her infidelity, Wentworth persuades her lover to take her place on the witness stand. That leads to the release of the murderer and Lambert becoming the chief suspect.

Anxious to clear his name, Terry finds Denise Connelly (Elizabeth McGovern), a young, savvy cocktail waitress whose assault Wentworth thwarted; and together they team up to trap the killer.

The couple is not as sophisticated as Cary Grant and Eva Marie Saint, but they are an unusual and scintillating combination. Vestron Video, rated R for nudity, language, violence, 113 mins., color, VHS/Beta, closed captioned.

Richard Pryor's acting career has been seriously malnourished lately; and the title of his latest effort, "Critical Condition," would describe it neatly. Pryor, character, a man victimized by loan sharks, who feigns insanity to escape prison, trades stripes for whites when he impersonates a Bellevue emergency room doctor during the great New York blackout of 1977.

As "Dr. Slattery" Pryor conducts some outlandish examinations, galvanizes the jaded hospital staff to take on the bureaucracy, provides welcome cooling with a helicopter's rotor and rallies the hospital's junkies, wackos and disgruntled patients and relatives who are tired of a system that broke down long before the lights went out.

Director Richard Apte does his best to put a lid on the piliated Pryor and the chaotic script; and provides an excellent supporting cast that includes Ruben Blades and Garrett Morris. Paramount Home Video, rated R for language and adult themes, 99 mins., color, VHS/Beta HiFi, laserdisc, closed captioned.

Distinguished actor Anthony

Hopkins stars in the intense British drama "The Good Father" (1987), about an embittered divorcee who makes an extreme case for more consideration of the man in custody cases. Bill Hooper (Hopkins) is a publishing executive whose racialist ex-wife Enmy (Harriet Walter) and all "liberated" women in general, extends even to his young son, whom he uses to get back at his wife.

But his real instrument of revenge is a suffering professor, Roger Miles (Jim Broadbent), who still loves his wife even though she is deserting him for a woman, taking Miles' son to Australia. Hooper pressures Miles into bringing a messy and degrading suit against his wife with the help of an amoral lawyer (Simon Callow).

But the pain Roger suffers because of the harsh treatment of his wife helps defuse some of Hooper's intense rage and sets him on the road to a surprising resolution of his many internal conflicts. Electrifying performance by Hopkins. Key Video, rated R for nudity, sexual situations and language, 90 mins., color, VHS/Beta Stereo.

Television idol of the younger set, Fred Rogers, has a video line based on characters from the long-running PBS Television series, "Mister Rogers Neighborhood."

Recently released was "When Parents Are Away," which helps children and adults cope with separation. Set in the "Neighborhood of Make-Believe" the video features the popular King Friday and Queen Saturday who are searching for a baby sitter for their younger, the Prince, while they are on a business trip. Playhouse Video, 66 minutes, color, VHS/Beta Stereo, closed captioned.

Chorus auditions slated by symphony orchestra

Auditions for St. Louis Symphony Chorus positions in all voice categories will be held Sept. 14-21 at Powell Symphony Hall.

Now in its 11th season, the chorus is the recipient of four Grammy Award nominations for its recordings with the Symphony Orchestra. Experienced singers with a basic understanding of vocal technique and a knowledge of sight-reading are being urged to schedule an audition. Interested persons should prepare two pieces, one in English and one in either Italian, Latin, French or German. Each piece should be memorized and last no longer than three minutes.

An expanded chorus will be utilized in performances of Berlioz' Requiem Nov. 19 and

21. Vocalists interested in these performances only will be asked only to vocalize and sight-read.

The Symphony Chorus, founded by Director Thomas Peck, performs several concerts each season with the orchestra in Powell Hall.

Highlights of this season, in addition to the Requiem, include The Creation by Haydn (April 8-10), Handel's Messiah (Dec. 11-13) and a March 13 special event concert featuring works of Johannes Brahms, William Schuman and Zoltan Kodaly.

Auditions can be arranged by contacting Chorus Manager Jude Schlitt at Powell, 718 N. Grand Boulevard, St. Louis 63103, (314) 533-2500.

Baumann a Missouri prep star

Sports of All Sorts

By Al Barnes

The St. Louis metropolitan area has been a great territory for the Boston Red Sox to sign baseball talent, especially pitchers.

Right off the top of my head, there were a pair of southpaws — Frank Baumann and Dave Sisler. Baumann was a graduate of Central High School and Sisler played for the John Burroughs Bombers.

Dave was not only a standout lefty hurler, but was the star of the Burroughs basketball team that won the Missouri state high school crown in Houck Field House on the campus of Southeast Missouri State in 1950.

Baseball was in Sisler's genes. His dad, George Harold (Gorgeous George) Sisler, starred for the St. Louis Browns in the early 1920's and his fielding feats at first base were so great that he is always ranked as baseball's best first sacker. His hitting, of course, was such that makes all fans speak of him in awe.

Dave's older brother, Dick, starred mostly for the Phillies, but was better than average with the Cardinals from 1946-57.

He reached his peak with the Phillies' famed Whiz Kids.

Baumann's career stretched over a ten-year period (1955-65). He had five years with the Red Sox and five with the White Sox. He closed out his career with the Cubs in 1965 with four appearances and an 0-1 record.

I remember Frankie Baumann most vividly because it was his mound artistry that paced Central High to three straight state titles. It was a record that probably will never be matched.

I played a key role in Baumann's brilliant record. I wasn't anything I did in preparing him for a pitching career. It was his dad who was mainly responsible for that. My part came about because I was responsible for the fact that Missouri finally inaugurated the state tournament in 1950.

I first became interested in Missouri high school sports in 1945-46 when I took a job with the St. Louis Star-Times. I was outraged when I found Missouri didn't have a state baseball tournament.

Every year at the basketball tournament, I'd bug the members of the athletic association to start one. Finally, in the spring of 1949, the directors of the Missouri state association voted to sponsor a state baseball meet. They called me in and gave me the good news. There was a catch, though.

"We haven't got the money for the baseball tournament," they said. "But if you can raise the money, we'll sponsor it and give it our official blessing."

I readily agreed. I didn't think there would be any problem with the big companies in St. Louis and throughout the state. But it didn't work out that way. Finally, I thought of a friend at Washington University, the Bears' athletic director and head basketball coach.

The semifinals and finals were played in Sportsman's Park. Central won the title with Baumann doing most of the pitching. They defeated St. Louis St. Mary's 2-1 in an extra-inning battle. The next year, Baumann and Central repeated by defeating Sikeston 13-0. In Baumann's last year, Central won the title with a 3-0 win over Cape Girardeau.

It seems like only yesterday I saw Frankie Baumann blowing down the batters those three years at Sportsman's Park. But I realized it was 37 years when I saw Baumann helping out at the Ted Savage Big League Baseball Clinic in Mitchell on Aug. 15.

The photo of Baumann in the Press-Record looked a lot like another favorite lefthanded pitcher of mine, former SIUE coach Roy E. Lee.

Lee and Baumann — what great memories those two bring back to me.

"She's got the three C's: cool, calm and collective," he said. A big surprise for Kelley this season is the addition of Michelle Trusgnich and Lisa Duonow, transfer soccer players from Tarkio College. Trusgnich has a year of experience behind her, and Duonow, a junior transfer from Meramec Community College.

"They'll give us a lot of flexibility we can utilize in the backfield," Kelley said.

Goalkeepers: The "Rock of Gibraltar" of what stands in front of the Cougar goal, Kelley said. Actually it is Roxanne Hake, the sophomore goalie who is a clear-cut choice to defend the SIUE net. Hake, who started in 13 of the 16 games she played in last season, had 60 saves and allowed only 14 goals. A tremendous athlete, she gets to bulls most goalkeepers wouldn't even get close to.

"If you don't have a good goalie, you've got nothing," Kelley said.

Two other goalkeepers contending for playing time are walk-ons Laura Goodman and Diane Swoboda.

Tickets available for Olympic match at Soccer Park

Approximately 6,000 people are expected to attend the Olympic qualifying match between the U.S. National Soccer team and Trinidad/Tobago on Sept. 5 at the St. Louis Soccer Park.

The game, which will begin at 1 p.m., is sponsored by Budweiser. Advance tickets for the game are $6 for general admission and $8 for reserved. Game day tickets will be $7 and $9, respectively. Tickets are available at all Ticketmaster locations.

As a result of its victory over the Canadian National team in May, the U.S. team has been included in a group (A) that includes Trinidad/Tobago and El Salvador. The winners of Group A and Group B (Mexico, Guatemala and Guyana) will advance to Seoul, South Korea, for the 16-nation Olympic soccer finals in the summer of 1988.

U.S. Soccer Federation officials said the U.S. team, which includes Steve Trittschuh, will play Trinidad/Tobago and El Salvador in home and away games with results tabulated on the basis of two points for a victory and one point for a tie. The return match with Trinidad/Tobago will be in Port of Spain on Sept. 20.

The U.S. will face El Salvador in San Salvador on Oct. 18 with the return match set for May 22 at a site in the United States yet to be determined. Trinidad/Tobago and El Salvador will meet May 15 and May 29 with sites yet to be determined.

In the Pan American Games, the U.S. defeated Trinidad/Tobago 3-1 and tied El Salvador 0-0. The Americans also fell to Argentina 2-0.

Busch pushing for 3 million

Busch beer is supporting the Cardinals' push for a 3,000,000 attendance mark with retail displays offering dollar off coupons toward the purchase of tickets to select home games.

The "Busch Push For 3 Million" promotion kicked off Aug. 25 with a fireworks extravaganza that followed the game with the Houston Astros.

"The fans have done such a great job of supporting the Cardinals this year," said Michael Owens, Busch senior brand manager. "With the three million mark so close at hand, Busch beer is trying to do its part in making this goal all the more reachable."

Beginning Aug. 26, Busch beer displays in the greater St. Louis area will feature more than 250,000 dollar off coupons good for any reserved seat for games on Sept. 2, 22, 23, 24, 30 and Oct. 1. Only one coupon may be redeemed per game and there will be a four-ticket limit per person, per game.

Additionally, Busch beer is providing radio stations across the Midwest with 1,000 free tickets. The radio stations will hold special "Busch Push For 3 Million" ticket giveaways throughout the coming weeks.

"Because of the rainouts that happened earlier in the season, the three million attendance milestone will be difficult to reach," said Michael Owens, LaBread, Busch product manager. "But if the Cardinal fans are up to the challenge, then so is Busch beer."

Busch beer is a product of Anheuser-Busch Inc.

Class D tournament will be Sept. 11-13

A Class D softball tournament will be held at the Third Street diamond in Madison Sept. 11-13.

For more information on entering the tournament, call Gene at 452-5500.

Fall softball in Madison

The Madison Recreation Department will accept teams for the fall softball season until Sept. 3.

If enough teams sign up, a 10-game schedule will be played.

For more information, call Jim Broadway at 451-1440.

QCSA meeting to be held Sept. 1

The Quad City Soccer Association will be having a meeting Sept. 1 at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 4225 Old Alton Road.

The meeting will be the last one held before the start of QCSA's fall season, which is Sept. 12. It is important that all members attend.

MCOSA parade set for Sept. 12

The Madison County Girls Soccer Association will kick off its fall season with a parade down Madison Avenue in Granite City.

The parade will be Sept. 12 beginning at 1 p.m. The planned route will take the parade from the parkways at 24th Street and Madison Avenue east down Madison to 29th Street.

The parade will take a left turn to the Wilson Park Ice Rink, where the girls will assemble for a brief awards ceremony for the past season and a welcoming of the new teams for this season.

Jack McKechnan of Granite City, the president of MCOSA, said his organization will ask the Granite City High School marching band to participate and will also ask the fire department to provide a fire engine as part of the parade.

McKechnan said he expects between 300 and 400 girls from 35 teams to participate.
